Re: New Municipal Courthouse Second-Floor Budget

Dear Cindy,

Attached to this letter you will find a budget estimate for the completion of the second-floor area in the new Municipal Courthouse. These budget numbers were based on information obtained from the Architect and the General Contractor as we have developed project construction estimates during the ongoing design phase. The additional cost to the project to finish the second-floor is estimated to be $1,991,200.

The total cost to complete second floor is around $2.6M but items that you have noted that cannot be included in the grant application have been deleted out such as furniture and contingency reserve. This estimate is also based on second-floor completion at the same time as the initial construction of the building, utilizing the same design and construction teams that will be in place. This allows for efficiencies, potential cost savings, and greater value to the City for this investment.

Please let me know if you should have any questions.

Respectfully,

Second-Floor Cost Estimate:

City of Cheyenne Administrative Expenses	$434,535.00
Design Fee	$95,700.00
Construction Costs	$1,460,965.00
Total:	$1,991,200.00

Note: These costs are based on a construction schedule coinciding with the current construction of the building and utilizing the same design and construction teams. Cost estimates are also based on a second-floor usage of general office and administrative function for the City of Cheyenne. Additional costs would be incurred if the usage would be different such as including a server room for the IT department.
